established harmony, 172, note, 179 ; definition of motive, 273, note; optimism, 377, note/forcein substance, 528.
Leland, 453.
Lewes, 240, 439.
Libertarians, 279, 280, 540.
Lindlcy, 120.
Locke, denies intuitions in theory, but admits them in fact, 292 ; qualities of matter, 521; reflection as source of ideas, 533.
Love, analysis of, 313, 318, 320, 3G4.
Lucretius, 103.
Lycurgus, 235.

MACAULAY, defective views as to answer to prayer, 203, note; perversions of conscience, 433-440.
Mackintosh, 8, 55, 281; fundamental principles, 293; notice of his resolution of moral feelings into association of ideas, 301; referred to, 408.
Multlms, 31.
Mansftl, MB strictures, 543, 544.
Maurice, VIOAV of atonement, 475,
M'Crio, 139.
Means of grace, 501.
Mechanical view of God, 18, 45.1-456.
Mexican superstition, 49.
Mill, Jamr;fl, 207-
Mill, J. S., 81, (nature of cause); 88, note, 105, note, 195, note, 240, note; notice of his account of tlio belief in causation, 528 ; of the general character of his work, 532.
Miller, II., 155, 412.
Miracles, 133, 114, 156, 528.
Mohammedanism, 58.
Montesquieu, 48, 139.
Morel 1, 12; review of his intuitional theology, 507-512.
Morphology of plant, 119-122.
MoHely, 123.
Miillcr on Sin, 377.
Mythic theory of gospel narratives, 506, note

NATURAL TIIKOMKIY, 17, 18, 23, 47, 449-454,510-518,521,

Neander, 51, 508.
Necessarians, 273, 280, 541.
Neological critics, 53.
Newton, Sir Isaac, 93, 100, 107, 110; 126, 152.
Niebuhr, 5, 36, 249.
Number, as a principle of order, 115-119.

OKEN, 123.
Omens, 199-202.
Order, principle of, 2, 115-138, 156, note, 158, 519.
Organic life and organization, 97, 98.
Outcasts of society, 242, 243.
Owen, Dr. J., views as to will, 274, note; referred to, 408.
Owen, Prof., views as to homologies of vertebrate skeleton, 123-125, 158.
Owen, R., 239, 273.

PALEY, 3, 31.
Pantheism, 15, 53, 54; view of Provi-dence, 207-215; opposed to fundamental principles, 458-461, 529.
Pascal, 56, 65, 74.
Payne, 207.
Perceptions, original and acquired, 522, 523.
Peripatetics, 464.
Persian religion, 21.
Pharisees, 47.
Philosophic theism, 465, 477, 485, 493, 506.
Plagues, effect of, on character, 246, 247.
Plant, order in structure of, 119422.
Plato, evil a limitation of the Divine power, 61 ," world, an animal, 98," views as to form and number, 128; as to order, 131 ; referred to, 509, 515.
Pliny the elder, 57.
Plurality of worlds, 154, note.
Plutarch, 49 ; his treatise on superstition, 207-215.
Pope, criticism of his view of Providence, 182, 183.
Popery, 50, 51, 54.
Proscott, 49.
Provost, 83, note.
Price, nature of virtue, 307.